

October 6, 2022

TZ Cloud Announcement

2022 has been a turning point for TZ; a year during which we have made significant changes throughout the business to improve the quality of our product and our service offering.

In late 2021, I undertook the role of CEO at TZ with the objective to ensure that the company remains focused on delivering innovative solutions to the market. TZ is first and foremost a technology company, and as someone with a proven track record in the technology sector, I understand the vital importance of continual innovation and advancement.

As a company committed to using technology to improve your own efficiency, we know you will understand our dedication to continuing the development of our product offering. This is a foundational priority for TZ and a strong focus for our team throughout the pandemic.

We believe that a software-first approach ensures success for all of us. To realize this goal, we are currently building TZ Cloud – our software as a service (SaaS) offering that will provide a more secure, stable, and scalable environment in support of our customers.

A few benefits of TZ Cloud for our customers:

- Automated software updates and version upgrades
- Compliant with global Data Protection Standards
- Reduced maintenance costs

The TZ Cloud solution will ensure that we deliver innovative software solutions as effectively and efficiently as possible, while maintaining a high level of customer service. Please reach out to your TZ Account Manager for more information or visit our website.

We look forward to our continued working relationship, and the opportunities to come with TZ Cloud.

Yours sincerely

Mario Vecchio
CEO, Telezygology Inc. (TZ Limited)
Connect with me on LinkedIn